Description:

From the Publisher Finally, Craig Boddington's long-awaited sequel to From Mt. Kenya to the Cape is here-the story of Boddington's hunts in the Dark Continent during the last ten years! Since writing his first African book, he has shot big game in Ethiopia, the Central African Republic, Tanzania, Mozambique, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Zambia, and Botswana-an unparalleled hunting accomplishment. From the steaming jungles of the Congo basin in search of the elusive bongo to the arid bushveld of Zimbabwe for leopard, Boddington pursues a large array of animals. America's most popular international hunter/writer tracks after such exotic animals as the mountain nyala, giant forest hog, sitatunga, giant eland, and a host of other game with unusual names. Of course such "normal" animals as the Cape buffalo, lion, leopard, and elephant are hunted too! If you like

Boddington's magazine articles, you'll love his latest book
